April 28. Letters from Batavia, dated the 2d of November, 1764, ſay, that a great mortality had prevailed in that city, both among the Europeans and the Chineſe, which they principally attributed to the dry weather that had laſted a long time. From the 1ſt of September, 1763, to the laſt of Auguſt, 1764, there died in the hoſpitals alone, 1932 Europeans, 832 of whom were buried in the months of June, July, Auguſt and September, 1764, when the diſeaſe was at its height. In the latitude of Gibraltar, theſe are to be joined again by another armament from Breſt; and it is aſſured, that to both the Spaniards will add a third ſquadron, which is to proceed in conjunction with them on the ſame enterpriſe. The review of the French ſeamen at Toulon has been made; ſo that when theſe advices came away, they were quite ready to ſail.

The Rum already made by them has been highly approved by the beſt Judges, and deemed ſuperior to either Philadelphia or New-England Rum; and they hope to give Satisfaction to the Public, as well as maintain their own Reputation, by continuing to make always of the ſame approved Quality.---As this Undertaking is ſo well calculated to promote the general Trade of the Province, and ſo convenient for ſupplying the Country Traders, Farmers, &c. who bring their Produce to Baltimore Market, as well as to promote the private Emolument of the Owners; it is hoped the Public will give proper Encouragement to a Branch of Trade ſo uſeful, and ſo much wanted in the Province.---Any Gentleman wanting Quantities of Rum for Exportation, by giving timeous Notice, may be ſupplied, and proper Allowance made to ſuch, by their humble Servants,

Beſides the lot on which the Hoſpital ſtands, with the improvements.

From an exact Liſt of the Names and Caſes of the Patients, it appears 405 poor diſeaſed Perſons have been admitted into this Hoſpital within the Year, ending the 3d of the 5th Month (May) 1765, of whom 71 were Lunatics, or other unhappy Objects, deprived of right Reaſon. Among the Cured was a Youth, about 13 Years of Age, of a reputable Family in this City, who had been long tortured with the Stone; he was cut, and a Stone, of the Size and Shape of a large Hen Egg, taken from him, and he diſcharged in 31 Days, perfectly cured, to the great Satisfaction of his Friends, and all others, who were acquainted with his ſevere Affliction; of which there have been ſeveral Inſtances of the like Kind, in former Years, in this Hoſpital. Of the above 405 Patients 207 were cured, 26 relieved, 3 incurable, 6 diſcharged for irregular Behaviour, 11 diſcharged by their own Requeſt, 6 eſcaped, 31 died, 115 remain, of whom 37 are Lunatics. In all, 405.

A BRIEF VIEW of the peculiar Advantages of PUBLICK HOSPITALS.

1ſt. "A PUBLICK hoſpital is the only certain way of relieving the poor ſick; who are frequently neglected and overlooked at their own homes; becauſe phyſicians and ſurgeons can neither give their attendance, nor diſpenſe their medicines with convenience at more places than one; and becauſe their concerns are of too private a nature to engage the attention of any, but the very few who may make it their buſineſs to enquire after them.

2d. "It is the moſt ſafe and eligible manner of doing it; becauſe the care and neatneſs, as well as the ſimplicity and regularity of diet, with which the poor are kept in an hoſpital, do all contribute much ſooner to their recovery, than their own way of living, and are often more effectual than phyſic, in the cure of ſeveral of the moſt inveterate diſtempers.

3d. "The expence of relieving a great number of ſick perſons in an hoſpital bears no proportion to that of aſſiſting them at their reſpective homes; and the widow's mite intruſted with thoſe who can diſpoſe of it in this way, will go farther towards anſwering the ends of charity, than a ſum of money beſtowed at random on ſuch as are incompetent judges of the uſe of it, or of the proper manner of laying it out.

4th. "It is incapable of being ſo far abuſed or perverted, as to make any repent of their bounty, which will appear to thoſe who conſider, that tho' part of the income ſhould be miſapplied, there would be ſtill more good done by it than by a large ſum in any other manner; for a thouſand perſons will be relieved here at a leſs expence, than would be required for a hundred in obſtinate or chronical caſes ſeparately.

5th. "It is a charity that is ſubject to no impoſture, but what muſt be diſcovered by the phyſicians and ſurgeons.

6th. "It prevents moſt of the evils that are common to the poor, by adminiſtring an immediate ſupport in the time of ſickneſs; and does in ſome meaſure ſupply their wants more effectually than money itſelf; by which means it gives the poor (in caſe of accidents, to which they are moſt ſubject) a conſiderable advantage over ſome in a ſuperior ſtation; the ſupplies that are immediately wanted are here granted in kind without any delay. Advice and medicines are to the ſick, what food is to the hungry, and clothes to the naked.

7th. "It provides for the relief and comfort of multitudes who are unable to be at the expence of advice or phyſick, but are diſtinguiſhed by the name of the poor, becauſe they do not come under the care of an alms-houſe, and yet are juſtly entitled to the regards of the public, ſince they are in preſent want, and many of them of the diligent and induſtrious, which is the moſt valuable and uſeful of all ſociety.

8th. "It multiplies every good that can be done to the poor in any other way, by eaſing whole families of attending and providing for their ſick relations; ſo that the miſerable are relieved and comforted, and their families are at liberty to earn their own ſupport at the ſame time.

9th. "It preſerves them from the ill uſage of ignorant quacks and impoſtors, who too often take advantage of their neceſſities, and not only inſenſibly drain them of the little money they have, under pretence of ſelling them cheap medicines; but frequently deſtroy their health, for want of honeſty and ſkill.

10th. "It is of the greateſt uſe to all other perſons, and as ſerviceable to the rich as to the poor, by furniſhing the phyſicians and ſurgeons with more experience in one year, than they could have in many years without it.

11th. "It is a means of increaſing the number of the people, by ſaving many who are often loſt, for want of timely aſſiſtance: And it deſerves to be remembered, that a third part of what every labouring man earns, is ſo much clear gain to the publick.

12th. "It reduces the number of vagrants, by depriving them of one of the moſt plauſible and common reaſons for begging from door to door, under the ſpecious pretence of ſick relations, or friends, for whom they are concerned; ſo that they who are idle, and able to work, will be obliged to have recourſe to ſome employment, and make them ſerviceable members of the community, when they are not ſupplied in the uſual manner from the publick and private charities, which are ſometimes diſtributed in ſuch manner as to occaſion diſcontents, and often liable to impoſitions.

13th. "It is a ſort of charity, calculated to promote a ſpirit of religion and virtue amongſt the common people. An hoſpital is ſupplied with patients from all parts, it may therefore reaſonably be preſumed that a ſpirit of gratitude will gradually ſpread, and that many of the people may be inſenſibly reclaimed by the regularity of manners enjoined to be maintained here, and by their being removed out of the way of bad examples for ſo long a time, as to beget in them contrary habits; as well as by the frequency of ſuch reflections as are naturally ſuggeſted in the houſe of mourning. For we can never hope to ſecure their affections, ſoften their paſſions, reform their manners, and poſſeſs them with a ſenſe of their duty to God, and their neighbours, ſo effectually, as by this feeling way to inſtruction.

"As clemency and compaſſion ſpeak the dignity of man, the want of it is a diſhonour to the chriſtian name: For the grand commandment in the chriſtian diſpenſation is tender mercy, love, and univerſal benevolence.

"The nearer we approach in ſimilitude to the great and glorious original, the univerſal parent, and ſource of all perfection, the more we ſhall abound in works of mercy, love and tender compaſſion, to our fellow creatures; may theſe be our employments, in proportion as they are our duty, and everlaſting intereſt! It will then undoubtedly yield an undecaying ſatisfaction in that ſolemn, that diſcriminating day, when the latent purpoſe of every heart will be explored; every action will appear without its maſk; and for all the deeds of morality, we ſhall receive a juſt and equitable reward."

By Captain Potts, arrived here from Falmouth, we have the following Advices, viz.

LEGHORN, April 13.

WE hear from Corſica, that the Marquis de Marbeuf, Commandant of the French troops, having received diſpatches from his Court, had ſent from Baſtia an Eſtaffet to Paſchal Paoli, to deſire him to keep at a diſtance from that territory, with his troops; and that this chief of the Malecontents withdrew immediately; a plain proof that inſtead of being willing to quarrel with the French, he deſires no better than to find an opportunity of obliging them.

Conſtantinople, April 1. Yeſterday, very early in the Morning, a very alarming Fire broke out in the Quarter of Tophana, which burnt with great Fury for twelve Hours, and, in its Progreſs to Pera, endangered ſeveral foreign Miniſters Palaces; but happily all eſcaped: Upwards of 600 Houſes were conſumed, and many Lives loſt in the Flames. To compleat the Calamity, the Plague is very buſy, and carries off Numbers; at the French Palace three Domeſticks have very lately died: The foreign Miniſters Palaces in general are ordered to be kept ſtrictly ſhut.

Madrid, April 15. Orders will, we hear, be iſſued, to prohibit our Colonies in America from trading with the Engliſh ſettlements in that part of the world, as the French and Dutch intend ſoon to eſtabliſh ſome free port, where our people can be plentifully ſupplied with every thing they want of European Manufacture.

LONDON.

April 25. Letters from Dantzick adviſe, that a treaty between the Empreſs of Ruſſia and King of Denmark was on the carpet, under the mediation of the King of Pruſſia, for the exchanging Ruſſia Holſtein, for the counties of Oldenburgh and Delmonhoſt. By virtue of this agreement, his Daniſh Majeſty, beſides ſatisfying all demands that may be due on Ruſſia Holſtein, engages to pay 6,000,000 of dollars to the Grand Duke of Ruſſia.

They write from Madrid, that complaints have been lately received from Spaniſh Hiſpaniola, of the French having an apparent deſign, by inſenſible encroachments, to poſſeſs themſelves gradually of the whole, or moſt valuable parts of the iſland, their plantations having already conſiderably exceeded the limits of antient St. Domingo.

April 30. We are credibly informed, that the late Reports of an approaching Change in the high Departments at the Weſt End of the Town, have only vague Conjecture for their Foundation.

Commiſſions have been received to engage ſeveral Perſons, well ſkilled in the Manufacture of Wine and Glaſs Bottles, for Quebec.

There are more Ships of Burthen now building in the Britiſh American Settlements, chiefly intended for European Freight and Sale, than has ever been known on any former Occaſion in that Part of the World,

The learned Jew Rabbi, Mordecai Mame, lately arrived from Paleſtine, has brought over ſeveral curious Hebrew Manuſcripts, much admired by the Virtuoſi for their great Antiquity; ſome of which are valued ſo high as Five Hundred Guineas.

One Evening this Week, at a Lodge of Freemaſons, held at a Tavern in the Strand, a ſprightly young Girl found Means artfully to introduce herſelf, diſguiſed in Mens Clothes, into the Lodge, where ſhe had the Happineſs of ſatisfying her Curioſity, ſo inſeparable from the fair Sex, and of being initiated into the ſublime Myſtery and Arcana of that antient and moſt honourable Society; ſhe remained ſome Time in the Lodge, but the Aukwardneſs of her Behaviour in her new Apparel, and ſome other Circumſtances, created a Suſpicion, which occaſioned the ſuppoſed Gentleman to be taken into another Room, when her Sex was diſcovered.

The Wife of a Subaltern Officer in the Royal Navy of Sweden was brought to Bed laſt Month, at Carlſcroon, of three Boys, who are all likely to live, and have been named Guſtavus, Charles, and Frederick Adolphus, after the three Royal Princes of Sweden.

Letters from Paris give an Account of a very extraordinary Bird from the Indies, called the Coſſovari, which was ſhewn at the late Fair of St. Germain. It has no Feathers, its Body being covered with Hair, or Briſtles, like thoſe of a wild Boar, which, however, are of moſt beautiful Colours. It is without Wings or Tongue, but can out-run the ſwifteſt Race-horſe, is 6 Feet high, though but 8 Months old, and has a Horn in the Middle of the Face.

May 2. They write from Vienna, that by letters from Warſaw, they had an account, that the Miniſters from Great Britain and Ruſſia, have taken ſome pains to get ſome equivalent of the Republic and King of Poland, for Prince Charles of Saxony, to indemnify him for the loſs of Courland.

From ſome late advices received by Baron de Nolckin, Envoy from Sweden, it is ſaid the court of Stockholm have been invited to accede to an alliance with Ruſſia and Denmark, and that the above Miniſter has orders to ſound the diſpoſitions of Great Britain, with reſpect to the ſame.

A ſharp enquiry is ordered, as we hear, to be made into the cauſes of offence, which our ſubjects have lately been ſaid to give to the French Government at Dunkirk.

Tueſday laſt the Spaniſh Ambaſſador received ſome diſpatches from the Catholic Miniſter at the Court of Vienna, ſaid to be of great conſequence with regard to the real warlike preparations of the Ottoman Porte on the frontiers of the Empire.

May 11. They write from Brandenburgh, of the 19th paſt, that ſix large barges, with coſtly materials for building the magnificent new palace at Potzdam for the King of Pruſſia, coming up the Elbe, were ſunk in a violent ſtorm, and every perſon on board periſhed.

Some letters from Holland mention, that the States General have lately come to a reſolution of augmenting their marine with 10 line of battle ſhips, which are ordered to be put upon the ſtocks.

Letters from Hamburgh, by the way of Holland, adviſe, that, the Dutch are raiſing ſeamen in that city, with the greateſt diligence.

The military eſtabliſhment of the Iſle of Man is now ſettled, which we hear will conſiſt of a regiment of foot on the Iriſh eſtabliſhment.

The number of Jeſuits exiled from France, &c. who have taken ſhelter in the Mint, near St. George's fields, Southwark, is ſo great, that it is difficult for the old inhabitants to keep themſelves properly ſheltered.

The ſettling of the regency is not as yet finally determined, notwithſtanding what has been aſſerted to the contrary.

The accounts of Lord Sandwich being about to retire from public buſineſs are premature.

We hear a grant of a conſiderable tract of land in the iſland of Cape-Breton, is now making out for a Commoner of Scotland, who has undertaken to work, at his own expence, ſome valuable coal mines thereon.

We are informed, that no diſpatches are yet received from France, relative to the payment of the Canada bills.

We hear that moſt of the cruizing veſſels and cutters, ſtationed to prevent what has imprudently been called Smuggling in North-America, except ſuch as are to watch the French in the Gulph of St. Lawrence, &c. will ſpeedily be ordered home.

Plymouth, May 5. Sailed the Belleiſle man of war for Cork, where ſhe is to take on board troops for North-America.

CHARLESTOWN (South-Carolina) June 5.

THE congreſs at Mobille, in Weſt-Florida, being concluded, the Hon. John Stuart, Eſq; Superintendant, ſet out for Penſacola, where he found a number of Creek Indians waiting for him. The Mortar, and a great many other head men, were within one day's journey of Penſacola when the laſt advices came away.

Orders are ſent from London to all the ſouthern provinces in America, for preventing any unneceſſary rigour towards Spaniſh veſſels coming in for refreſhment, &c.

June 12. It is with much pleaſure we can inform the publick, that all the endeavours uſed to prevent the Creek headmen from attending the congreſs which the Hon. John Stuart, Eſq; Superintendant of the ſouthern diſtrict of America, had appointed to be holden with thoſe Indians, have proved abortive.

Extract of a letter from Mobille, in Weſt-Florida, dated May 6th, 1765.

----"A gentleman is juſt returned from the river Manchak or Iberville, about thirty-eight leagues above New-Orleans, on the eaſt of the Miſſiſippi, a very pleaſant ſituation, and a good ſoil, abounding with fiſh and game. The neighbouring Indians are very peaceable, and ſeem inclined to live peaceably with us, as they themſelves ſay, while we are at peace with the French. Their vicinity to that people has naturally attached them to the French intereſt, and low mercenary individuals make it their ſtudy to keep them blind to their own; but the diſpoſition of the ſuperior and more powerful nations towards us has already begun to open their eyes. Capt. Campbell has given them ſome trifling preſents; but their permitting him to do what he has done, has been greatly owing to the juſt, though kind, repreſentations of M. Aubry, who commands at New-Orleans ſince the death of M. D'Abbadie. Capt. Campbell's operations are not yet compleate; the middle of laſt month the river was greatly incommoded with logs, ſtumps, canes, and rubbiſh, and the Seaſon ſo dry, that numbers of fiſh died for want of water: A great deal of work has been done, and a great deal yet remains to be done. A large ſpot is cleared for building a fort on the point of Iberville; the ſtanding wood, with the rivers Manchack or Iberville, and the Miſſiſippi, form a ſort of triangle; near it lie the Nautilus frigate, Capt. Lockyer, and two ſloops loaded with artillery, ſtores and materials for erecting the fort, for which purpoſe an engineer is likewiſe there.

"The convoy which the Superintendant ſent from New-Orleans to the Illinois was on Eaſter-ſunday, nine leagues above fort Natchez, in good health and ſpirits. They had on board ſome Illinois chiefs, who came down to conſult the French governor what they had beſt do in the preſent ſtate of affairs. He gave them ſome ſmall prefents, and adviſed them to receive the Engliſh as friends and brothers. The Superintendant's deputy gave them greater preſents, and honoured the principal with a medal, which he received with great ſatisfaction, and promiſed to carry a letter, which the Deputy gave him, to Colonel Bradſtreet, or officer commanding the army, together with the calumet of peace. They were highly pleaſed with the honours they received from Capt. Lockyer of the Nautilus, when they paid him a viſit on board.

"Major Farmer ſailed yeſterday with the 34th regiment on the ſecond expedition up the Miſſiſippi, and we flatter ourſelves that, by the prudent ſteps taken to facilitate his paſſage, he will ſucceed, though ſome doubt if he will get farther than Natchez this year.

"About three weeks ago there was no appearance of the Spaniards at New-Orleans, many of the preſent inhabitants thinking it would fall to our ſhare; many of them wiſh for us, many for the continuance of the French, and but few, if any, for the arrival of the Spaniards.

"The Hon. John Steuart, Eſq; Superintendant, has now finiſhed with the Chactaw nation; the laſt party of thoſe Indians that arrived here was to a man French, yet we think they returned Engliſh to a man: They chearfully acceded to the treaty, and took their leave the 4th inſtant. The Superintendant, after his immenſe fatigue, is gone for a few days into the country, and propoſes to ſet out for Penſacola in about a week, there to meet the Creeks, who have been ſending repeated meſſages to him for ſome time paſt, being impatient for the departure of the Chactaws, Chickeſaws, &c. as he had abſolutely refuſed to receive any of them before he had finiſhed with the others.---The Creeks have lately killed ſome Chactaws, and it is not doubted but revenge will be taken this ſummer."----

The laſt advices from Penſacola are dated the 22d paſt, and inform us, that the congreſs with the Creeks was to be opened there about the 28th. The important affairs tranſacted at the great congreſs which was opened at Mobille the 26th of March laſt, neceſſarily took up ſo much time, that the congreſs with the Creeks could not be holden ſooner, as it never was intended to aſſemble the Creeks till the ſaid congreſs was concluded.

Letters from Fort Prince George inform us, that Ouconnoſtota, or the great Warrior, was then there on a friendly viſit to Mr. Price, the commandant, being the firſt time of that chief's truſting himſelf in our hands ſince 1759; he was very friendly, and gave the ſtrongeſt aſſurances of his attachment to the Britiſh nation and intereſts.

Admiral Sir William Burnaby, left the large ſhips which he carried with him from Jamaica at the iſland of Rattan, and proceeded to the Bay of Honduras, where he ſettled every thing in the moſt ſatisfactory manner, and agreeable to his inſtructions; he diſpatched the Druid ſloop to England with accounts of his proceedings, and there being no occaſion for the 400 land forces which he likewiſe carried with him, they are gone back to Jamaica in the large ſhips. Sir William arrived at Penſacola in the Active frigate, accompanied by the Wolf ſloop.

QUEBEC, May 30.

By the laſt Poſt from Montreal, we have the following particular Account of the terrible Fire that broke out in that City, on Saturday the 18th Inſtant, betwixt Two and Three o'Clock in the Afternoon.

It began in the Houſe of Mr. Livingſton, from thence it communicated itſelf to the oppoſite Side of the Street, and with irreſiſtible Fury flew down the whole Street, on both Sides, to Mr. Howard's Corner, from whence, to the Left, it ſpread all over the Market-place, and as far forward that Way, on both Sides of the Street, as Mr. Knipe's Houſe, which is totally deſtroyed; to the Right of Mr. Howard's, it burnt the whole Street ſtraight along to the Town Wall, excepting only two or three Houſes, beſides a narrow Lane that begins from the Back of Mr. Knipe's Houſe, and runs cloſe along by the Wall a conſiderable Way beyond the Market-place; three or four of the Town Gates are burnt down, and the Guard-Houſes above them, nay the very Boards that covered the Top of the Wall took Fire, and burnt from the Hoſpital Gate nearly to the South-weſt End of the Town: The Fire did not confine itſelf within the Walls, but flew over, and got hold of a Battoe loaded with Goods in the River, alſo 30 or 40 Birch Canoes, that were lodged in ſome Yards on the other Side of a ſmall Rivulet that runs along by the Side of the Wall; the large Nunnery of the Grey Siſters, about 8 or 10 Houſes, farther on by the Side of the River, nearly as far as St. Ann's Church, and the Pickets that incloſed the Fields, all of which is entirely burnt. It is ſaid 8 or 9 ſick Perſons in the grey Siſters Nunnery were burnt to Death, and one Monſ. Jean Noel Deſriviere was burnt in his own Houſe. It ſeems, after a pretty ſtrict Examination of the Number of Houſes deſtroyed by the Fire, beſides thoſe outſide of the Walls, they were found to be 110. The Loſs, it is ſaid, ſuſtained by this Fire, will amount to not leſs than 200,000 l. ſterling, reckoning the Value of the Houſes (the greateſt Part of which are good for nothing) the Furniture and Merchandize, a very Trifle of both which Articles are only ſaved, as the Flames extended themſelves with ſuch Swiftneſs and Fury, that every one's Houſe was on Fire before they knew what they were about. There was a very ſtrong Wind at about Weſt, or Weſt and by North. The whole within the Walls were in one general Conflagration in the Space of one and an Half, or two Hours Time. Moſt unfortunately this Fire happened in the very Place where the greateſt Part of the Britiſh Merchants were collected together. Several Merchants in this City have ſuffered greatly by the Fire in Montreal, as the chief of them had Stores in that Part of the City which was conſumed.

June 6. In Juſtice to the Merit and diſtinguiſhed Generoſity of the Troops at Montreal, you are deſired to publiſh the following Paragraph of a Letter tranſmitted to the Governor and Council, who cannot ſufficiently applaud the Behaviour of the Officers and Soldiers upon the late melancholy and trying Occaſion.

Montreal, May 29, 1765.

'Yeſterday, in the Forenoon, we wrote to Capt. Brown, that as, upon Enquiry, we found the Behaviour of the Soldiers had been ſo zealous for, and neceſſary to, the Safety of the Town, we thought it incumbent upon us to make them a Preſent, in order to replace the Neceſſaries they loſt during the Time of the Fire, and begged that he would ſettle with the other Commanding Officers of the Corps, what Time would be moſt convenient to meet us, in order to conſult about the intended Reward.

'In Conſequence of our Letter to Capt. Brown, he, with Captains Hope and Johnſon, waited upon us, and thanked us, in the Name of the Soldiers, for our Intentions; that, ſenſible they had done their Duty, and pleaſed with the Governor and Council's Approbation of their Conduct, they renounced any pecuniary Reward, as there were but too many neceſſitous Sufferers, who required the Aſſiſtance of Government; as to themſelves, they had their Pay to ſupport them.' Signed,

ADAM MABANE,
BENJAMIN PRICE.

By Order of his Excellency in Council,

HEN. KNELLER.

From the PORTSMOUTH MERCURY of June 20

On Saturday Night, between 11 and 12 o'Clock, Capt. Benjamin Lunt, in a Schooner from Newbury, loaded with Lime and other Goods, and ſeveral Paſſengers on board, with a Tow of Masts in her Stern, coming into this Harbour, ſtruck on a Rock off Jerrey's Point, ſo called, and continued beating on the ſame above an Hour, when the water getting to the Lime, occaſioned ſuch a prodigious Smoak, that Capt. Lunt was obliged to take the ſmall Float which they had on board, in order to carry the People on Shore, being apprehenſive of the Veſſel's taking Fire, and while he was gone on Shore with one of the Women, a Sea waſhed the Schooner inſide the Rock; when ſhe immediately ſunk about 15 Rods from Shore; the Remainder of the People on board ſaved themſelves by climbing up the Maſts, Ropes, &c. till they were carried on Shore in the Float.----The Tow and Maſts ſeparated, but were all taken up next Morning----The Schooner it is thought will be got up again, but moſt of the Cargoe, which was of conſiderable Value, will be entirely loſt.

We hear from Dunſtable, that about 14 Days ſince a Flaſh of Lightning ſtruck 15 Sheep (lying down under a large Oak Tree within a very ſmall Diſtance from a Houſe) dead upon the Spot and the Tree not broke.

And near about the ſame Time a Flaſh of Lightning ſtruck a Veſſel on the Stocks at New-market, which moved ſeveral Plank, &c. and ſtarted a Number of Trunnels above a Quarter of an Inch.

Friday laſt arrived here Capt. Allen, of his Majeſty's Sloop Gaſpee, and ſailed from hence on Saturday, and on Monday returned with a French Schooner, called the L'Amatie, belonging to Hiſpaniola, Burthen 60 or 70 Tons; ſhe was lying at Anchor under the Land in Ipſwich Bay, (in the Maſſachuſetts Government) almoſt loaded with Bricks and Lumber, and bound for St. Peters, near Newfoundland.

KILLINGLY, June 17.

On Monday laſt, the Houſe of James Bruce of this Place was ſtruck with Lightning; which entered in at the Roof, near the Chimney, took off ſeveral Boards and a Rafter, which were ſplit into ſmall ſplinters, and ſome of them carried ten or twelve Rods Diſtant from the Houſe; the Lightning then running down a Poſt, entered a Room where eight Perſons were ſitting, tearing up the Floor next the Chimney, ſplitting a Sleeper adjoining the Hearth, in ſo ſmall Pieces, that none could be found exceeding three feet in Length, and two Inches in Diameter, without hurting any Perſon, except a Woman, who received a ſmall Wound on her Leg, by the Lightning, which ſoon turned of a purple Colour, ſwelled much, and was extreme painful. A Man was ſitting in the Garret, ſeparating Hemp from Tow that was intermixed; and the Tow was ſet on Fire, without his receiving any Harm. No Perſon in the Houſe was ſenſible of hearing the Thunder, though they imagined they heard ſome uncommon Noiſe.-----Two Hogs that lay near the Houſe were killed.-----

NEWPORT, July 1.

Capt John Thurſton arrived here laſt Saturday, in 19 days from the Weſt-Indies. Before he ſailed he received information of a free trade being opened at Martinico and Guadaloupe, for ſorts of North-American produce, pork, beef, bread, and flour excepted.

Capt. Richard Carpenter arrived here yeſterday from Penſacola in 27 days. Admiral Sir William Burnaby had fallen down the river, in order to proceed to South Carolina, with three of his Majeſty's ſhips: The Prince Edward, of 40 guns, one of his ſquadron, was to remain at Penſacola.

His excellency the governor of Weſt-Florida, and the hon. John Stuart, Eſq; ſuperintendant of Indian affairs for the ſouthern diſtrict of America, on or about the 30th of May held a congreſs at Penſacola, with the Mortar, headmen of the upper Creeks, and about 600 other Indians, conſiſting moſtly of Creeks, with ſome Chickeſaws, Chactaws, &c. which terminated to mutual ſatisfaction. The Indians made a grant to the Engliſh of a large tract of land.

NEW-YORK, July 4

We are informed from Jamaica, that the Difference between the Governor and General Aſſembly of that Iſland, aroſe in the following manner. The Carriage of one of the Members of the Aſſembly, which had brought him to the Houſe, was arreſted by the Marſhal, for a Debt of 50l.---The Houſe reſented it, and impriſoned the Marſhal. The Governor immediately prorogued the Aſſembly, whereby the Marſhal was releaſed of Courſe.

When the Aſſembly met again their firſt Work was to impriſon the Marſhal, upon which the Governor diſſolved the aſſembly. The ſame Members were all re-elected, and when they met, immediately impriſoned the Marſhal, and the Governor again diſſolved them--ſince which we have received no further Advices.

College of Philadelphia, January 31, 1765.

IT having been repreſented, ſome Years ago, to the TRUSTEES of the College, Academy and Charitable School of Philadelphia, that many Perſons, at a Diſtance from the City, would more willingly ſend their Children to this Seminary, if they could be lodged and boarded in a Collegiate Way, under the immediate Care and Inſpection of the Profeſſors and Maſters; by which it was hoped the Youth would make greater Proficiency in their Studies, and the Expence be conſiderably leſs-------

The TRUSTEES do, therefore, now give Notice, that a New Building is completely finiſhed as a Wing to the College, capable of accommodating about Sixty Students, and that the Rev. Mr. EBENEZER KINNERSLEY, one of the Profeſſors, a Gentleman of regular and exemplary Life, hath undertaken the particular Management and Stewardſhip of the ſame. A Number of the Senior Students and Scholars are now entered into this Building; and Parents reſiding at a Diſtance are hereby acquainted that their Children, being ten or eleven Years of Age, or upwards, will be admitted into it, and the greateſt Care taken of their Health, Morals and Education. For, beſides the general Inſpection committed to Mr. Kinnerſley, the Truſtees viſit every Month;----the Provoſt, Vice-Provoſt and Profeſſors will alſo take their weekly Turns in Viſiting; and the Ushers of the ſeveral Schools lodge and board with the Youth in the ſaid Building, to preſerve the greater Decorum and Order. The plentiful and commodious Market, with which this City is bleſt, will give an Opportunity of providing every Thing good in its Kind; and as a regular Account of the whole will be kept by Mr. Kinnerſley, and (after Examination by the Truſtees or Maſters) proportioned Quarterly among the Youth, without any other Charge than the prime Coſt of Proviſions and Firewood, with the ſtated Fees to the Steward and Servants, it is hoped that the Youth will be accommodated on the moſt eaſy and reaſonable Terms. But if there ſhould be, nevertheleſs, any Parents at a Diſtance, who may have any Perſon in Town, with whom they would particularly chuſe to entruſt their Children as private Lodgers, it is not intended, by this public Plan, to prevent ſuch Perſons from following their own Inclination in this Reſpect; the Truſtees being ever deſirous ſo to manage the Inſtitution, as that the greateſt Good may be done thereby.

By Captain Wasdale, arrived here from Belfast; and Captain Smith, belonging here, arrived at New-York, from London, we have the following Advices, viz.

PUY, in VELAI, April 21.

ON Sunday evening last, between nine and ten, a tragical event happened in this town. Between two and three hundred people, of both sexes, curious to see the tricks of an Italian juggler, who had amused the people for some days, repaired to a large room which he had hired to exercise his talent in. After two or three surprizing tricks, he said, Now you are going to see something very extraordinary, and scarcely were the words out of his mouth, when indeed an affair happened which no less astonished the Trickster than the spectators. The floor of the room, which had not been properly supported for bearing such a number of people, gave way on all sides, and the whole company fell pell-mell to the depth of 15 feet, with the beams, planks, benches, chairs, tables, &c. by which accident a number of arms and legs were broke, and contusions and other wounds received in different parts of the body; but happily not one person was killed on the spot, and it is even hoped that most, if not all, of those who were wounded will recover, though many of them are terribly maimed.---It was pleasant enough to hear two servants, who were peeping through a window (on seeing all the people disappear, and thinking it was one of the juggler's tricks) innocently cry out, O! what a stroke is there! that indeed surpasses all the rest!

Pesaro, April 8. We know not yet the cause of the insurrection of the inhabitants of Todi: But the affair is become so serious, that the Governor, not chusing to risk the consequences, is retired to Orvieto.

Hamburgh, April 13. A report is just now spread, at the departure of the post, that the treaty of friendship and alliance between the Courts of Petersburgh and Copenhagen is renewed. A courier has passed through this city in great haste, on his way from London to Stockholm.

DUBLIN, April 23.

Extract of a Letter from Kilkenny, dated April 14.

"Yesterday the following criminals (White Boys) James Reddy, James Costello, Robert Nowlan, Edmond Tobin, William Bell, and John Brenan, were carried from the county goal, escorted by Col. Hale's light horse, two troops of carabineers, and two companies of foot, to a gallows erected on purpose at James's green, where they were executed. The rope with which Reddy was first tied up broke, but this was soon remedied. They were all scored across their breasts, and their heads cut off. Brenan's wife converted her husband's head to some use, by carrying it about the streets, collecting money from the populace. They all denied any part in the murder of the sergeant, but acknowledged they were there, and had stones in their hands and pockets, ready to join in the rescue. The other two for the murder and rescue, and three for burning the Tythe corn, are reprieved till the 4th of May.

Corke, May 2. We hear a most audacious letter has been wrote, and addressed particularly to three gentlemen of considerable eminence in the church, threatening destruction to their lives and properties, in case of refusal to comply with certain commands of Queen SIVE, touching tythes on potatoes, and the daily hire to be hereafter paid for labour.

Belfast, May 10. Saturday last arrived at Portrush, the Ship Rainbow, of Colleraine, Capt. Jesse Taylor, from New-York, with Lumber and Rum.

LONDON.

April 19. The late interested behaviour of the Dutch prohibiting the exportation of barrel staves, fishing tackle, &c. which appear plainly to be levelled against the rising state of the British herring and cod fisheries in the North Seas, it is said will produce some new regulations on our side, with regard to the unlimited freedom that nation has heretofore enjoyed on the coasts and islands of Great-Britain, but which, it is said, are this summer about to be considerably curtailed.

May 2. Private letters from Petersburgh mention, that the Marquis de Bausset, Minister Plenipotentiary from the Court of France to the Empress, affects to take some exceptions to certain treaties now on the carpet between Russia and Denmark, which the French Ministry are apprehensive will, in the present posture of affairs, incline the political balance of the Empire too much in favour of Great-Britain.

They write from Genoa, that one Col. Cottone, with five other officers, belonging to one of the Corsican regiments in the service of the Republic, stationed at the Light-house, had formed a conspiracy to set fire to the powder-mills and warehouses, situated between the city gate and the Light house, and entrusted to their care. Had not their wicked design been happily discovered by one of the accomplices, the best part of that city must certainly have been reduced to a heap of rubbish. The Colonel was immediately secured by a party of grenadiers, in his own apartment; and three of the officers, who had made their escape by sea, were overtaken at some distance from Genoa, and are all kept under close confinement, to take their trials.

In consequence of certain answers lately received from France, said to be of a very satisfactory nature with regard to the designs of that nation on the coast of Africa, some farther instructions are preparing to be sent out to Commodore Graves, commanding officer on that station, who is expected to have arrived there by this time; and we hear they will be carried over by his Majesty's ship Venus, now under repair in Chatham dock.

We are told from Mittau, where the General Dyet of Courland is now sitting, that 18 districts openly espoused the cause of Prince Charles of Saxony, whilst the Duke de Biren had but nine in his interest. The Marshal of the Dyet, in his speech at the opening of it, made no mention either of the Duke de Biren or his administration, speaking only of the King and Republic of Poland.

By a pamphlet published at Berne, we see what may be done by a Prince who has at heart the improvement of manufactures and commerce. The author of this pamphlet, who is the Sieur Bertard, having lately accompanied two Polish Noblemen in a journey to Neufchatel, a principality on the borders of Switzerland, and belonging to the King of Prussia, says, in giving the description of this little state, what follows: "In the valley of Fravers a considerable quantity of lace is made; upwards of thirty Traders, and about eighty-two Watchmakers, are settled there. At Lode, and at Chaur des Fonds, the number of Watchmakers is 231, who make annually near 1500 complete watches. At Bolombiers they print 80000 pieces of cotton in a year. The villages are full of fine houses, manufactures flourish, and traces of industry are to be seen every where. This exercise of the Arts excludes not Agriculture: The fields and vineyards present to the eye a chearful spectacle, most agreeably diversified, &c."

Letters from Wiltshire and Gloucestershire say, that the cloathing trade in those counties, has lately so much revived, that there is no doubt of full employment for the different manufactures in that branch of business for many months to come.

A letter from Dublin, dated May 7, says, "On Friday last a vessel bound from Wexford for Liverpool, with 90 pigs on board, was put by contrary winds into this harbour: The same night she was boarded by the populace, who, filled with an idea of their ruin by the continuance of such a trade, destroyed every one of them; and to such a height was their resentment carried, that there is no knowing what the consequences might have been to ship and crew, had not the master solemnly declared he would never be concerned in that trade for the future."

Letters from Brest say, that upwards of 3000 workmen are now employed in undermining Mount Charles, great part of which has been already blown up, and the whole is intended to be reduced to a level, on account that it overlooked that city and haven, and might have been extreamly prejudicial, in case of any future attempts of any enemy on the land side.

Yesterday a great number of journeymen weavers, with a black flag carried before them, accompanied by their wives and children, went up to St. James's, to represent to his Majesty their distressed condition for want of work, occasioned by the importation of French Silks and other foreign goods. Their Majesties being gone for Richmond before they reached St. James's, most of them went to Richmond; where one of the Lords in waiting brought them word from his Majesty, that he would do all in his power for their relief.

The Lord Mayor and Court of Aldermen at Guildhall having notice of the above large body of Weavers going up to St. James's, dispatched orders to the Beadles of the several Wards of this City, to give notice to the Constables in every parish to repair to their respective watch-houses with assistance, and there to remain till further orders, to prevent any riots.

BOSTON, July 4.

A Gentleman from Athol, in this Province, acquaints us of the great Improvement already made in the Sugar-making Business at Bernardston, about 20 Miles from that Place; and as the Ingredient from which this valuable Article is produced, is spontaneous, and purely the Product of Nature, uncultivated by human Art, it must doubtless excite the Curiosity of many to be informed of the particular Method of procuring it; which, as far as we could obtain from the Gentleman, is thus: Having chosen out a large Maple-Tree, suitable for the Purpose, they with the Axe box it, much after the same Manner of the Fir from which Turpentine is obtained; this being done, a kind of Trough is prepared, extending from the Trunk of the Tree on each Side in order to retain the Sap as it runs down. By this Means upwards of 30 Gallons from one Tree has been drawn in a Day; which being manufactured after the Manner of the Syrup proceeding from the Sugar-cane, produces a Sugar, the Grain of which is equal in Fineness to the Jamaica; and the Melasses or Treacle, extracted from the Pressure of the Sugar, is very little, if any Thing, inferior to our West-India Melasses. Of this Sugar (a small Quantity whereof was brought to this Market to dispose of) the Gentleman says, upwards of 600 lb. was made by one Man the last Season, i. e. from February to April, inclusive. It is the prevalent Opinion of the Manufacturers, that a Tree will be serviceable for this Purpose 12 or 14 Years, with proper Usage.---When any one considers the still greater Improvements that this Discovery is capable of, and forms to himself an Idea of the great Utility of such a Manufacture, especially in a Country that has few or no staple Commodities to support it, must not wish that an adequate Bounty was provided, or such other ample Encouragement allowed, as that we might be able at last to supply ourselves with these Articles? and no longer have Recourse to our West-India Neighbours, who, we imagine, will by this Discovery, will be as much Necessitous from the Want of our Lumber, as ever we have yet been from the Want of their Produce.---If we would be further stimulated to the propesed Encouragement, we need only to reflect a little on the Manufacture in some of our Southern Provinces; whose Opulence arises chiefly from some of the most diminutive Plants, and proceeds more from Art in the Improvement of these, than from Industry in laborious Employments.

Besides the above, several Hundred Weight of this Maple-Sugar has been brought, within these few Days past, from various Towns, situated on the Eastern and Western Part of this Province, for Sale; it is said that one Family near Number One the last Season made upwards of 1000 lb. of different Qualities. It is as pleasant to the Taste as any other Sugar, and the Makers insist that it is medicinal, and very proper to give to Children in the Chin-Cough, at this Time very prevalent among us.

July 8. The house of representatives in their last session appointed the hon. James Otis, Timothy Ruggles, and Oliver Partridge Esquires, a committee to meet the committees of the assemblies of the whole continent, if they see cause, at New-York, the 1st of October, to unite in a Petition to his Majesty and the Parliament, for relief under the insupportable grievance of the STAMP ACT, &c.------It is hoped neither the Governor of Virginia, or any other Governor on the continent will think this so improper a step as to dissolve their assemblies to prevent it. For we cannot think any of their excellencies and honors altogether unacquainted with the Act of Parliament made immediately after the glorious revolution, which declares it is the right of the subject to petition the King---and Parliament sits for the redress of grievances.

NEWPORT, July 8.

The Cygnet Man of War, Capt. Leslie, arrived here Thursday Night from New-London.

We have a report in town, concerning an Insurrection of the inhabitants of Mexico, something of which, under the South Carolina head, was inserted the Week before last. Our Account which is thought to be authentick, is, That an Edict some Time since arrived from the Court of Spain, with Orders, that every Inhabitant capable of bearing Arms, should be subject to be regularly exercised, and apparelled in one particular Uniform. This excited a Disaffection; and some Delinquents being prosecuted with Rigour, caused the whole Country to join in one general Revolt, and pursued it with such Vigour and Success, that the Viceroy was obliged to make a precipitate Flight, and to quit the Country.

Mexico is of so great Extent, as to form a powerful Empire. The Viceroy, who is sent from Spain, exercises as much Despotism as any Prince in Europe. It is divided into Old and New Mexico, the former is above 2000 Miles in Length, and from 400 to 550 in Breadth.

There is now in this Harbour three Men of War, viz. the Maidstone, Cygnet, and Jamaica.

NEW-YORK, July 11.

By late Accounts from Pittsburgh, we hear of Col. Croghan's arrival at the Scioto; he informs us, that Lieut. Fraser, with his Party, had left that Place some Time before he got there, and as there appeared a very good Disposition in the Indians, it was not doubted he would get safe to Fort Chartres, the Place of his Destination. These Accounts contradict the Reports which were received some Time since, of his being destroyed by the Savages, which were hatched by Traders to serve their own Purposes.

July 15. Tuesday last Capt. Moore arrived here from Honduras Bay, in 30 Days: He sailed from thence in Company with Capt. Woodhouse, for Jamaica, and Captain Sergeant, for St. Kitts. The Snow Thomas and Waddell, James Chambers, Master, lay well at the Musqueto Shore, the 1st of June last. Captain Moore spoke with the following Vessels, viz. The 19th of June, with the Brig Nancy, Thomas Wallace, Master, from Jamaica for Dublin, 8 Days out. July 2d, with the Snow Polly, Thomas Woodford, Master, belonging to Lancaster, off Cape Hatteras from Sieraloon with Slaves for Charlestown, S. Carolina.

On the 30th of May, a Court of Judicature commenced in the Bay of Honduras, in Conformity to the Laws and Regulations prescribed by Sir William Burnaby on the 11th of April last, and then agreed to by His Britannic Majesty's Subjects residing there: At which, sundry Matters (long in Controversy) were brought to issue.

A Court will continue to be held there every three Months in order to determine any Disputes that already have, or may hereafter arise, between the British Inhabitants in that Part of the World.

From a late UTRECHT GAZETTE.

The 30th of April there was a great Debate in the House of Lords, on the Bill for the Regency; it passed 120 against 9, that it should be examined by a Committee of the whole House. The 2d of May it was afterwards proposed, to intreat his Majesty by an humble Address, to be pleased to name the Person or Persons which his Majesty designed to propose for the Tutelage of his illustrious Children, and the Regency of his Dominions, that the Parliament in conferring the Royal Authority on a Person or Persons not designed in the said Bill, might not act contrary to Custom in like Circumstances. This Proposition was deferred for the next Day, when it was thrown out 89 against 30. The 2d the Lords approved in a Committee, the Regency Bill; the voted, that the Judges ſhould be ordered to attend the next Day, to give their Opinions on theſe two Queſtions, viz.

1ſt, Is a Stranger, married to the King of Great-Britain, naturalized in every Reſpect by the Force of the common Law?

2d, Suppoſing her to be ſo naturalized, is ſhe capable or incapable, in Conſequence of the Act 12 W. 3, concerning the Limitation of the Crown, and confirming the Rights and Liberties of the People, or by any other Act, to poſſeſs any Employ?

PHILADELPHIA, July 18.

Extract of a Letter from London, dated May 14, 1765.

A BOUNTY for nine Years is to commence from the Firſt of January, 1766, viz. for three Years, 20s. for every Hundred, containing Six Score Deals, Planks and Boards, not leſs than ten Feet long, ten Inches broad, and one and a Quarter of an Inch thick; and ſo in Proportion for any greater Length, and any greater Thickneſs, not exceeding four Inches. And 12s. for every Load, containing 50 cubic Feet, of any ſquare Timber of all Kinds, not leſs than ten Inches ſquare.

For the next three Years, 12s. on Deals, Planks and Boards; and 8s. on Timber.

For the laſt three Years, 10s. on Deals, Planks and Boards; and 5s. on Timber.

It is neceſſary to be obſerved, that the Workmen in Great-Britain have been ſo long accuſtomed to the Forms and Dimenſions of Deals and Timber imported from Norway and the Baltic, that unleſs the Americans cut and convert theirs after the ſame Manner, it will not ſell to Advantage, which has proved the Caſe with ſome Cargoes lately imported from America, that came of various Lengths, Breadths and Thickneſs, in Expectation that it might be ſold by the Foot, and in that Way find its Value, in which the Proprietors have found themſelves greatly miſtaken.

When imported from Foreigners, pays Duty, per Load, 8s. 7d. 2f.

- Fir Timber, not leſs than ten Inches ſquare, from 20 Feet to 50 Feet long.
- An ordinary Kind from Norway, now ſells from 26s. to 28s. per Load, 50 cubic Feet.
- A good Kind from Riga, 46s. to 48s. per Load.

- Oak Timber, not leſs than ten Inches ſquare, from 20 Feet to 50 Feet long, 3l. to 4l. per Load.

Cedar, not leſs than ten Inches ſquare, if 16 Inches ſquare, the better, from 12 to 20 Feet long.

Many other Kinds of Timber, the Produce of America, will probably anſwer for Sale in Great-Britain.

The beſt in Quality of every Sort, ſhould only be ſent. All coarſe Tops of Trees to be cut off, as the Freight will be ſo conſiderable a Part of the Value.

The following is the proper Dimenſions of Deals for Sale in Great-Britain.

When imported from Foreigners, pays Duty, £4 5 10½ per 120, £1 8 7½ per 120 Deals.

Inches, Thick.	Feet, Length.	Inches, Breadth.	Deals from Norway, &c. now ſell in London, viz. Ordinary white Wood.	Yellow Wood.
1	10	10 to 12	4l. to 5l. per 120	7l. to 8l. Ditto
1	12	Ditto	- - - -	about 8l. to 9l. Ditto
2	12	Ditto
2	12	Ditto
1	14	Ditto
2	14	Ditto	In Proportion to Ditto, calculating Length and Thickneſs (the Price of One and an Half Inch, 12 Feet long, being the Standard.)
2	14	Ditto
1	16	Ditto
2	16	Ditto
2	16	Ditto
1	18	Ditto
2	20	12
2	22	Ditto
2	24	Ditto	Theſe Dimenſions not uſually brought from the Baltic, but would ſell in Proportion to the following,
2	26	Ditto
2	28	Ditto
2	30	Ditto	- - - -	6s. to 7s. each.
2	36	Ditto	- - - -	7s. to 8s. each.
2½	36	Ditto	- - - -	9s. to 10s. each.
3	40	Ditto	- - - -	12s. to 14s. each.

All to be perfectly free from Sap, and to be ſawed exactly regular, and conformable to the above Dimenſions; the cleaner and freer from Knots the more agreeable.

N. B. Too great a Quantity of Turpentine will diſpleaſe, as being offenſive to the Smell, too heavy, and not eaſy for the Tools of the Workmen.

By the Act now paſſing, Liberty will be granted to export from America, after the Fifth of July, 1765, Iron to Ireland, and Lumber to Ireland, Madeira, the Weſtern Iſlands, and any Part of Europe, to the Southward of Cape Finiſterre.----Alſo Liberty to carry, WITHOUT SUFFERANCE OR COCKET, any Goods of the Growth or Manufacture of the Colonies, from Colony to Colony, by inland Navigation, in Veſſels without Decks, not exceeding 20 Tons, and not above one League from the Shore."

Captain Bolitho, from Jamaica, in the Gulph ſpoke with Captain Lewis, from Jamaica for New-York; and off of Cape Hatteras with Captain Green, in a Brig from this Port to Jamaica.

Captain Spain, from Antigua, the 11th Inſtant, ſpoke with a Snow from Virginia to Glaſgow, out three Days, all well.

Captain Duncan, from Jamaica, off the Bay of Hundy, on Cuba, the 18th ult. ſpoke with the Schooner William and Mary, of Caſco Bay, bound to Charles-Town, in South-Carolina, from Kingſton, when the Captain, and moſt of his People, were very ſickly, and in Want of Water, which he ſupplied them with.

The Hero, Captain Foſter, is arrived at Liſbon; as is the Penn, Captain Taylor, at Antigua, both from this Place---And Capt. Hubbs, from Rhode-Iſland; Captain Bailey, from Long-Iſland; and Captain Denny, from Virginia, are all arrived at Antigua.

On Tueſday Night, and Wedneſday Morning, not leſs than Twelve Sail of Topſail Veſſels arrived here.

Extract of a Letter from Williamſburgh, July 1, 1765.

"The Report of Colonel Chiſwell's being killed by the Cherokees, is premature; he is expected in Town this Evening, with the Little Carpenter, in order to ſettle Matters with our People, relating to the Indians lately murdered in Auguſta County."

Extract of a Letter from Carliſle, July 11, 1765.

"Yeſterday Evening, as ſeveral Perſons were ſitting, in the Time of a Thunder-guſt, near a Fire Place, in the Houſe of John Swancy, about ten Miles from this Town, the Lightning ſtriking the Chimney, deſcended, and killed a young Man, named M'Bride, and badly hurt three or four others, one of which, it is thought, will hardly recover. The Perſon killed, ſprung up on his Feet, and ſaid, "The Lord have Mercy on me, I am gone," and then dropped down dead. No Hurt could be perceived on the Body, only his Breaſt a little ſinged, as if done by Fire."

The Gentleman who ſent us the above Article obſerves, that when Houſes are ſtruck by Lightning, it generally deſcends by the Chimneys; therefore adviſes, in the Time of Thunder Storms, to keep at as great a Diſtance from Fire Places as poſſible, by which ſome Lives may be ſaved.

IT having been repreſented, ſome Years ago, to the TRUSTEES of the College, Academy and Charitable School of Philadelphia, that many Perſons, at a Diſtance from the City, would more willingly ſend their Children to this Seminary, if they could be lodged and boarded in a Collegiate Way, under the immediate Care and Inſpection of the Profeſſors and Maſters; by which it was hoped the Youth would make greater Proficiency in their Studies, and the Expence be conſiderably leſs-------

The TRUSTEES do, therefore, now give Notice, that a New Building is completely finiſhed as a Wing to the College, capable of accommodating about Sixty Students, and that the Rev. Mr. EBENEZER KINNERSLEY, one of the Profeſſors, a Gentleman of regular and exemplary Life, hath undertaken the particular Management and Stewardſhip of the ſame. A Number of the Senior Students and Scholars are now entered into this Building; and Parents reſiding at a Diſtance are hereby acquainted that their Children, being ten or eleven Years of Age, or upwards, will be admitted into it, and the greateſt Care taken of their Health, Morals and Education. For, beſides the general Inſpection committed to Mr. Kinnerſley, the Truſtees viſit every Month;----the Provoſt, Vice-Provoſt and Profeſſors will alſo take their weekly Turns in Viſiting; and the Uſhers of the ſeveral Schools lodge and board with the Youth in the ſaid Building, to preſerve the greater Decorum and Order. The plentiful and commodious Market, with which this City is bleſt, will give an Opportunity of providing every Thing good in its Kind; and as a regular Account of the whole will be kept by Mr. Kinnerſley, and (after Examination by the Truſtees or Maſters) proportioned Quarterly among the Youth, without any other Charge than the prime Coſt of Proviſions and Firewood, with the ſtated Fees to the Steward and Servants, it is hoped that the Youth will be accommodated on the moſt eaſy and reaſonable Terms. But if there ſhould be, nevertheleſs, any Parents at a Diſtance, who may have any Perſon in Town, with whom they would particularly chuſe to entruſt their Children as private Lodgers, it is not intended, by this public Plan, to prevent ſuch Perſons from following their own Inclination in this Reſpect; the Truſtees being ever deſirous ſo to manage the Inſtitution, as that the greateſt Good may be done thereby.

All Veſſels coming to this Port from Sea, and even Coaſters, and ſome ſmaller Veſſels, have of late been much diſturbed by the Hawke Man of War, lying in the Bay, which brings them all to, and takes their Hands. It is ſtrange there ſhould be ſuch a Want of Hands in this Time of Peace. It is thought that this Practice will be a great Diſcouragement, and Obſtruction to the Coaſting Trade. One of the Officers who purſued a Veſſel to the Town, was pretty roughly treated by ſome of the Populace.

Mr. HALL,

Among many paſſages which gave me pleaſure, in peruſing the account juſt publiſhed of GENERAL BOUQUET's late Expedition againſt the OHIO INDIANS, I was particularly affected with the following one, relative to the delivery of THE PRISONERS. The tender deſcriptions, and intereſting reflections, it contains, will, I am perſuaded, be acceptable to ſuch of your humane readers, as may not have an opportunity of ſeeing the original publication, from which it is taken.-----After giving an account of the conferences and tranſactions with the ſeveral Indian tribes at Muſkingum, the editor proceeds thus.

AND here I am to enter on a ſcene, reſerved on purpoſe for this place, that the thread of the foregoing narrative might not be interrupted---a ſcene, which language indeed can but weakly deſcribe; and to which the Poet or Painter might have repaired to enrich their higheſt colourings of the variety of human paſſions; the Philoſopher to find ample ſubject for his moſt ſerious reflections; and the Man to exerciſe all the tender and ſympathetic feelings of the ſoul.

"The ſcene, I mean, was the arrival of the priſoners in the camp; where were to be ſeen fathers and mothers recognizing and claſping their once-loſt babes; huſbands hanging round the necks of their newly-recovered wives; ſiſters and brothers unexpectedly meeting together after long ſeparation, ſcarce able to ſpeak the ſame language, or, for ſome time, to be ſure that they were children of the ſame parents! In all theſe interviews, joy and rapture inexpreſſible were ſeen, while feelings of a very different nature were painted in the looks of others;----flying from place to place in eager enquiries after relatives not found! trembling to receive an anſwer to their queſtions! diſtracted with doubts, hopes and fears, on obtaining no account of thoſe they ſought for! or ſtiffened into living monuments of horror and woe, on learning their unhappy fate!

"The Indians too, as if wholly forgetting their uſual ſavageneſs, bore a capital part in heightening this moſt affecting ſcene. They delivered up their beloved captives with the utmoſt reluctance; ſhed torrents of tears over them, recommending them to the care and protection of the commanding officer. Their regard to them continued all the time they remained in camp. They viſited them from day to day; and brought them what corn, ſkins, horſes and other matters, they had beſtowed on them, while in their families; accompanied with other preſents, and all the marks of the moſt ſincere and tender affection. Nay, they did not ſtop here, but, when the army marched, ſome of the Indians ſollicited and obtained leave to accompany their former captives all the way to Fort-Pitt, and employed themſelves in hunting and bringing proviſions for them on the road. A young Mingo carried this ſtill further, and gave an inſtance of love which would make a figure even in romance. A young woman of Virginia was among the captives, to whom he had formed ſo ſtrong an attachment, as to call her his wife. Againſt all remonſtrances of the imminent danger to which he expoſed himſelf by approaching to the frontiers, he perſiſted in following her, at the riſk of being killed by the ſurviving relations of many unfortunate perſons, who had been captivated or ſcalped by thoſe of his nation.

"Thoſe qualities in ſavages challenge our juſt eſteem. They ſhould make us charitably conſider their barbarities as the effects of wrong education, and falſe notions of bravery and heroiſm; while we ſhould look on their virtues as ſure marks that nature has made them fit ſubjects of cultivation as well as us; and that we are called by our ſuperior advantages to yield them all the helps we can in this way. Cruel and unmerciful as they are, by habit and long example, in war, yet whenever they come to give way to the native dictates of humanity, they exerciſe virtues which Chriſtians need not bluſh to imitate. When they once determine to give life, they give every thing with it, which, in their apprehenſion, belongs to it. From every enquiry that has been made, it appears---that no woman thus ſaved is preſerved for baſe motives, or need fear the violation of her honour. No child is otherwiſe treated by the perſons adopting it than the children of their own body. The perpetual ſlavery of thoſe captivated in war, is a notion which even their barbarity has not yet ſuggeſted to them. Every captive whom their affection, their caprice, or whatever elſe, leads them to ſave, is ſoon incorporated with them, and fares alike with themſelves.

"Theſe inſtances of Indian tenderneſs and humanity were thought worthy of particular notice. The like inſtances among our own people will not ſeem ſtrange; and therefore I ſhall only mention one, out of a multitude that might be given on this occaſion.

"Among the captives, a woman was brought into the camp at Muſkingum, with a babe about three months old at her breaſt. One of the Virginia-volunteers ſoon knew her to be his wife, who had been taken by the Indians about ſix months before. She was immediately delivered to her overjoyed huſband. He flew with her to his tent, and cloathed her and his child in proper apparel. But their joy, after the firſt tranſports, was ſoon damped, by the reflection that another dear child of about two years old, captivated with the mother, and ſeparated from her, was ſtill miſſing, although many children had been brought in.

"A few days afterwards, a number of other priſoners were brought to the camp, among whom were ſeveral more children. The woman was ſent for, and one, ſuppoſed to be hers, was produced to her. At firſt ſight ſhe was uncertain; but, viewing the child with great earneſtneſs, ſhe ſoon recollected its features; and was ſo overcome with joy, that literally forgetting her ſucking child, ſhe dropt it from her arms, and catching up the new found child in an extacy, preſſed it to her breaſt, and burſting into tears carried it off, unable to ſpeak for joy. The father, ſeizing up the babe ſhe had let fall, followed her in no leſs tranſport of affection.

"Among the children who had been carried off young, and had long lived with the Indians, it is not to be expected that any marks of joy would appear on being reſtored to their parents or relatives. Having been accuſtomed to look upon the Indians as the only connections they had, having been tenderly treated by them, and ſpeaking their language, it is no wonder that they conſidered their new ſtate in the light of a captivity, and parted from the ſavages with tears.

"But it muſt not be denied that there were even ſome grown perſons who ſhewed an unwillingneſs to return. The Shawanees were obliged to bind ſeveral of their priſoners, and force them along to the camp; and ſome women, who had been delivered up, afterwards found means to eſcape, and run back to the Indian towns. Some, who could not make their eſcape, clung to their ſavage acquaintance at parting, and continued many days in bitter lamentations, even refuſing ſuſtenance.

"For the honour of humanity, we would ſuppoſe thoſe perſons to have been of the loweſt rank, either bred up in ignorance and diſtreſſing penury, or who had lived ſo long with the Indians as to forget all their former connections. For, eaſy and unconſtrained as the ſavage life is, certainly it could never be put in competition with the bleſſings of improved life, and the light of religion, by any perſons who have had the happineſs of enjoying, and the capacity of diſcerning, them."

"Fathers (ſays he to the Engliſh) we have brought your Fleſh
"and Blood to you: They have been all united to us by Adop-
"tion; and although we now deliver them, we will always look
"upon them as our Relations, whenever the Great Spirit is
"pleaſed that we may viſit them. We have taken as much Care
"of them as if they were our own Fleſh and Blood. They are
"now become unacquainted with your Cuſtoms and Manners;
"and therefore we requeſt you will uſe them tenderly and kind-
"ly, which will induce them to live contentedly with you."

ELEGY,

Sacred to the Memory of

DR. EDWARD YOUNG.

"What can preſerve my Life? or what deſtroy?
"An Angel's Arm can't ſnatch me from the Grave,
"Legions of Angels can't confine me there."

IN ſorrowing Verſe to mourn the pious Dead,
And weave a Chaplet for the Poet's Head,
To plaintive Numbers tune the Voice of Woe,
And bid the Tear of ſocial Pity flow,
The penſive Muſe, theſe ſylvan Glooms among,
Would ſympathizing wake th' elegiac Song.
IN minute Drops why weeps the conſcious Shade?
Expreſſive Sorrow! Whence this Silence dread,

Best possible image.

That ſtills the Muſic of the falling Floods,
And gives a browner Horror to the Woods?
Whence this ſad Gloom, that robes the midnight Sky,
And veils its Splendor from the raviſh'd Eye,
Robs the bright Stars of all their beamy Light,
And pales the Silver of the Lamp of Night?
For YOUNG is dead, all NATURE ſeems to cry,
For YOUNG is dead, the ſighing Gales reply.
THEN let me too the general Sorrow ſhare,
And wait with NATURE on the Poet's Bier.
To thee, O YOUNG! theſe infant Strains belong,
No 'ſemblant Arts ſhall grace the pious Song;
'Tis ſacred FRIENDSHIP, 'tis the QUEEN of Woe,
Shall aid my Sighs, and bid my Numbers flow.
FROM BRITAIN'S favour'd Iſle though diſtant far,
Where ſhone the Luſtre of thy radiant Star;
Yet in theſe Pages * pure, ſublime and true,
Thy IMAGE, GOODNESS, PIETY I view;
Where bright in Numbers, Harmony divine,
The POET, CHRISTIAN, and the PREACHER, ſhine;
Where FANCY blooms, where modeſt VIRTUE warms,
RELIGION ſpeaks, and all URANIA charms.
The Gloom of Night to gild with WISDOM's Ray,
With hallow'd Feet to tread the milky Way;
To ſtrip gay Folly of her wanton Plume,
And chear the Death-deep Horrors of the Tomb;
T'inſtruct or lead the captive Soul along
Through all the Mazes of majeſtic Song;
Theſe, and far nobler Flights, thy Muſe eſſay'd,
Still more exalted by Devotion made.
FRIEND of the infant Muſe, in whom's combin'd
The Soul of Friendſhip, with a tender Mind;
Philander ſay, when Eve, in Purple dreſt,
Curtain'd the dewy Frontlet of the Weſt,
Where darkling Verdures grace fair Schuylkill's Shore,
That winding warbles o'er its rocky Floor;
How, Hand in Hand, in meditative Mood,
We walk'd the Margin of his Silver Flood,
Liſt'ning the Muſic of the ſacred Page,
And ſweet Inſtructions of the moral Sage.
Dumb is that Voice, and mute the tuneful Tongue,
Whence flow'd the ſacred Eloquence of Song.
Though far from where to Friendſhip's ſtreaming Eyes,
The conſcious Weeds now o'er thy Aſhes riſe;
Where pale BRITANNIA, weeping o'er thy Grave,
Bemoans the pious Bard ſhe could not ſave;
Yet will the Muſe, in humble Strains, impart
The ſpeaking Sorrows of a wounded Heart;
Thy honour'd Shade demands th'elegiac Lay,
The only Tribute that ſhe now can pay.
COME then, URANIA, Heav'n-deſcended Maid,
Where Sylvan weaves yon ſolemn Cypreſs Shade;
There lies the Bard, O vent thy Sorrows there,
And drop, for Virtue loſt, a pitying Tear:
With radiant Stole, in flowing Sables dreſt,
Religion come, a holy-muſing Gueſt,
With Heav'n-rais'd Eye; and, wrapt in penſive Gloom,
Come, Star-encircled Contemplation, come;
The lovely Train of Virtues weeping round,
With Leaves funereal ſtrew the ſacred Ground.
Ye Sons of Albion now your POLLIO mourn,
With Laurel Foliage wreathe his hallow'd Urn.
But what, alas! can all this Pomp avail,
When e'en in Heav'n the Roſe-lipp'd Seraphs fail!
What Scenes ſeraphic, what bright Viſions riſe,
All Heav'n deſcending ſwims before mine Eyes.
In radiant Bands, with blooming Garlands gay,
They hail the Prophet up th'Æthereal Way.
Divinely rais'd amid the tuneful Choir,
To heav'nly Notes he ſweeps the golden Lyre;
Each ſilenc'd Seraph ſtands with folded Wing,
And hears, and joys to hear, the Minſtrel ſing!
THUS ſung the Bard to Mortals liſt'ning round,
Till Angels, raptur'd with the ſacred Sound,
In Triumph bore him to th'Elyſian Plain,
To warble there his Heav'n-illumin'd Strain.
